Department of Creed and Fundamentals of Religion

About the Department:

The Department of Creed and Fundamentals of Religion was established within the Faculty of Sharia at Imam Bukhary University on 01/10/2025, following the university's approval by the Ministry of Higher Education in the Republic of Gambia to operate as an accredited private university on January 2, 2025. The establishment of the department responds to the need to prepare specialized scientific cadres in the sciences of creed, capable of contributing to the dissemination of correct Islamic thought and addressing contemporary intellectual challenges.

Department Vision:

To be a leading scientific beacon in the field of Aqeedah sciences and intellectual currents, contributing to the dissemination of Islamic culture, promoting the approach of moderation and balance, and serving the community.

Department Mission:

Enabling students to specialize in the sciences of Creed, Da'wah, and Fundamentals of Religion according to the methodology of Ahl al-Sunnah wa al-Jama'ah, through distinguished academic teaching, rigorous scientific research, and effective community partnership, while preserving the authenticity of Islamic sciences and keeping pace with contemporary developments.

Objectives:

In alignment with the university's mission of disseminating Islamic knowledge and socially valuable sciences, establishing Islamic values, warning against innovations and superstitions, and focusing on historical and educational studies according to the scientific methodology, without abandoning sound ethical values for The Gambia and other countries—which are essential for the social and economic development of The Gambia—while distancing from all forms of extremism and rigidity, and in compliance with the policy of the National Accreditation and Quality Assurance Authority in education according to the vision of the Gambian Ministry of Higher Education, the department's objectives are summarized as follows:

1. Dissemination of the creed of Ahl al-Sunnah wa al-Jama'ah, and elucidation of the fundamentals of calling to Allah according to the methodology of Ahl al-Sunnah wa al-Jama'ah, which is based on moderation, balance, wisdom, and good admonition.
2. To develop students specialized in Aqeedah, Religions, Da'wah, Islamic Culture, Education, and History, qualified and capable of addressing the developments and changes of the modern era related to their fields of specialization.
3. Building a balanced character through the consolidation of the values of moderation, centrism, and the correct understanding of Sharia texts.

4. Qualifying students in the critique of dissenting sects and mastering the skills of criticism and refutation of opponents.
5. Emphasis on the study of the Prophetic Biography and the history of the Ummah to derive lessons and admonitions and apply them to the reality of life.
6. Encouraging scientific research in the sciences of Aqeedah and Da'wah, and striving to achieve rapprochement and understanding among the peoples of the region in accordance with the correct principles of Islam.
7. To promote cultural, scientific, and social activities and direct them in a manner consistent with national and international interests, as well as religious values.

Criteria for Selecting Academic Staff:

1. Academic Authenticity: Obtaining academic degrees from recognized universities with a prestigious academic reputation in Sharia sciences.
2. Research Output: Possession of an outstanding research record and publications in peer-reviewed scientific journals, especially for applicants for the ranks of Professor and Associate Professor.
3. Teaching Experience: Possession of prior experience in university-level teaching, and the ability to utilize modern educational technologies.
4. Moderation and Balance: Commitment to the methodology of Ahl al-Sunnah wa al-Jama'ah, and the ability to instill the values of tolerance and moderation in students.

Learning Resources for the Aqeedah and Usul al-Din Program:

To achieve the maximum educational and research benefit for students of the Aqeedah and Usul al-Din program, the program at Imam Bukhary University relies on an integrated and diverse system of learning resources. These resources aim to equip students with solid doctrinal knowledge and to develop research and analytical skills in the fields of Aqeedah and Islamic thought. These resources are distributed as follows:

1. Printed Books and References:

Available Books in the Central Library of Imam Bukhary University: The collection includes a wide range of seminal books on Islamic creed, books on sects and schools of thought, and books on the fundamentals of religion, in addition to the works of scholars of Ahl al-Sunnah wa al-Jama'ah, as well as contemporary references in Islamic thought and contemporary issues of creed.

Specialized Libraries: Utilizing the libraries of faculty members and public libraries specialized in Sharia sciences and Islamic thought.

2. Electronic Resources and Databases:

Electronic resources available in the databases of the digital library at Imam Bukhary University: Provide access to thousands of books and peer-reviewed scientific journals in the fields of Aqeedah and Usul al-Din, through the university's subscriptions to specialized scientific databases.

Peer-Reviewed Scientific Journals: Reviewing the latest research and studies on issues of creed and Islamic thought through specialized journals and academic databases.

3. Interactive and Educational Resources:

- Notes and Visual Presentations: Any notes or visual presentations (PowerPoint Presentations) uploaded by faculty members on the electronic learning system of Imam Bukhary University, which include lecture summaries, mind maps, interactive questions, and enrichment materials.
- Recorded Lectures: Recordings of live lectures or pre-prepared video lectures, enabling students to review the educational content anytime and anywhere.
- Discussion Forums: Interactive platforms for discussing doctrinal issues, analyzing intellectual currents, and exchanging scholarly opinions under academic supervision.

4. Specialized Websites:

- Reliable academic websites: Websites of legitimate institutions, scholarly academies, and accredited fatwa centers that provide studies and research in creed and Islamic thought.
- Personal websites of scholars and researchers: Benefiting from the reliable scientific content provided by specialists in Aqeedah and Usul al-Din through their academic platforms.
- Academic Research Gateways: For accessing theses and peer-reviewed research in the fields of Aqeedah and Islamic Thought.

5. Internally Produced Educational Materials:

- Authored and Translated Textbooks: Books and publications produced by the faculty members of the department, whether original authorship or translation of significant references, which reflect the academic and research expertise of the department and directly meet the scientific needs of the students.
- Applied Studies and Exercises: Educational materials aimed at training students to analyze doctrinal issues, study sects and intellectual currents, and address doubts using a scientific and systematic approach.

This integrated system of learning resources contributes to establishing a solid scientific foundation for students of Aqeedah and Usul al-Din, enabling them to acquire skills in research, analysis, and scientific criticism, thereby qualifying them to competently and effectively address contemporary doctrinal issues.

Admission and Student Support

The Department of Creed and Fundamentals of Religion places great emphasis on the student's academic and personal journey from the moment of application for admission to the program until graduation. The admission and student support system aims to attract promising talents and provide a stimulating and inclusive educational environment that ensures students' success and excellence through a comprehensive set of requirements, programs, and services.

First: Admission Requirements for Students in the Department of Creed and Fundamentals of Religion

To ensure the recruitment of qualified students capable of comprehending the study requirements in the Department of Aqeedah and Usul al-Din, the department establishes a set of admission conditions and criteria, as follows:

- 1. Legal Age: The applicant must be at least 18 years old at the commencement of studies.
- 2. Admission Examinations: Passing the written and oral admission tests conducted by the department, which aim to assess the student's comprehension of fundamental Sharia concepts as well as their linguistic and intellectual abilities.
- 3. Academic Qualification: Obtaining a General Secondary Education Certificate or its equivalent, accompanied by the submission of a transcript demonstrating that the student has achieved at least a good grade in the following core subjects:
 - The Holy Quran.
 - Aqeedah.
 - Arabic Language (Grammar and Morphology).
- 4. Criminal Record: Submission of a certificate of no criminal record from the competent authorities to ensure the student's adherence to ethical and societal values.
- 5. Health Fitness: Obtaining a medical certificate proving the student's health fitness for university study.
- 6. Personal Documents: Provide two recent passport-sized photographs, submit the birth certificate, and present the passport or national identity card.
- 7. Commitment to Compliance: Signing a written pledge to adhere to the standards, rules, and general values promoted by Imam Bukhary University both within and outside the campus, reflecting discipline and mutual respect.
- 8. Registration Fees: Payment of the prescribed registration fees at Ecobank, and submission of the payment receipt to Imam Bukhary University for verification of the completion of the process.

Second: Orientation and Preparation Programs for New Students:

The department is keen to provide a welcoming and supportive environment for new students through comprehensive orientation and preparation programs held at the beginning of each academic semester, which include:

- 1. Reception Ceremony: Organizing a reception ceremony for new students, aimed at introducing them to Imam Bukhary University and the department, and facilitating their integration into university life.
- 2. Introduction to Regulations and Policies: Providing detailed orientation sessions on the academic and administrative regulations and policies of the university and the department, the courses, classrooms, the central library, and all available facilities and services.

Third: Counseling Services (Academic, Career, Psychological, Social):

The department offers a comprehensive range of counseling services to support students in various aspects of their academic and personal lives, as follows:

- 1. Guidance Manual: Providing each student with a comprehensive guidance manual covering student activities, regulations and policies, and available services, to serve as a reference for the student throughout their period of study.
- 2. Academic Advisor: The appointment of a faculty member as an academic advisor for a specific number of students from the beginning of the program until graduation. The academic advisor provides support and guidance to the student regarding the study plan, course selection, minor specializations, and academic challenges.
- 3. Specialized Guidance: Providing advice and assistance to the student regarding the field of specialization, and directing them towards available research and professional opportunities in Aqeedah and Usul al-Din.
- 4. Personal and Social Guidance: Receiving students and providing guidance during designated office hours to offer support and advice on personal and social aspects that may affect their academic journey, while maintaining complete confidentiality.

Fourth: Special Support:

The department is committed to providing special support for students with diverse needs to ensure they have equal opportunities for success and excellence.

- 1. Support for Academically Struggling Students: Students experiencing academic difficulties are guided to fulfill the necessary requirements and needs through participation in intensive training courses and workshops aimed at achieving the required levels and skills. Examples include the e-learning course conducted at the beginning of each semester within the program, in addition to individual or group tutoring sessions.

2. Support for Persons with Disabilities: Special facilities are provided for individuals with physical disabilities, including designated parking spaces, equipped restrooms, and accessible pathways, to ensure an inclusive and accommodating university environment.

3. Gifted and Talented Student Support: The department offers specialized programs for the care of gifted and talented students, including opportunities to participate in scientific research, conferences, and academic competitions, as well as providing scholarships or incentive awards, aimed at developing their abilities and directing them towards excellence and creativity.

Program Quality Assurance

The Department of Aqeedah and Usul al-Din is committed to implementing the highest standards of academic and administrative quality to ensure the excellence of its educational and research outcomes. This is achieved through an integrated quality assurance system encompassing all aspects of the program. The system aims for continuous performance improvement, fulfillment of academic accreditation requirements, and the realization of Imam Bukhary University's mission and strategic objectives.

1. Quality Assurance System in the Program:

The program adopts an internal quality assurance system that aligns with national and international standards for higher education. This system includes clear mechanisms for quality planning, implementation, monitoring, evaluation, and continuous improvement. This is achieved through:

- Defining Quality Standards: Establishing clear standards for the quality of teaching, curricula, scientific research, student services, and facilities.
- Periodic Review: Conducting periodic reviews of all program components by specialized internal and external committees.
- Feedback: Collecting and analyzing feedback from students, faculty members, graduates, and employers for use in improvement processes.
- Improvement Plans: Developing detailed action plans to address identified weaknesses and enhance strengths through evaluation processes.

2. Quality Control Procedures for Program Courses Taught by Other Academic Departments

To ensure consistency and quality in the courses taught by other departments (such as Arabic language courses, or certain related jurisprudence or educational courses), the following procedures are followed in coordination with the heads of the respective departments:

- Systematic Coordination: Holding periodic meetings with department heads and relevant faculty members to review course descriptions, content, teaching methods, and assessment approaches, in order to ensure their alignment with the objectives of the Aqeedah and Usul al-Din program.

- Report Exchange: Exchange of academic performance reports of students in these courses, as well as course evaluation reports by students and faculty members.
- Joint Review: Conducting joint reviews of the achieved learning outcomes in these courses and providing recommendations for their improvement when necessary.

3. Procedures Followed to Ensure Equivalence Between the Program's Main Campus and Other Branches (if any)

In the event of the existence of other branches of the program or parallel tracks (such as a track designated for male students and a track designated for female students within a single main campus), the department ensures equivalence in the quality of education and the resources available. Since the current program focuses on a single main campus, this point does not directly apply to the existence of independent branches. Nevertheless, equivalence between male and female students at the main campus is ensured through:

- Curriculum Unification: The application of the same study plans and educational curricula for all male and female students.
- Equal Resources: Providing the same educational materials, facilities, and services to all students without discrimination.
- Assessment Criteria: Application of unified and fair evaluation standards for all students.

4. Program Plan for Measuring Learning Outcomes at the Program Level:

The program adopts an approved plan for assessing learning outcomes at the course level and subsequently at the overall program level. This plan aims to ensure that students acquire the knowledge, skills, and competencies specified in the program objectives. Learning outcomes are measured through:

- Various Assessment Tools: Utilization of diverse assessment tools such as tests, research projects, presentations, case studies, and practical evaluations.
- Results Analysis: The outcomes of learning assessment are analyzed periodically, and the reports are discussed in the Department Council of Aqeedah and Usul al-Din.
- Improvement Decisions: Based on the results of the analysis and discussions, necessary decisions are made to enhance the quality of the courses, develop teaching methods, and optimally utilize the expertise of the faculty members.

5. Program Quality Evaluation:
